UConn Extension
Spring 2016 Seminars

Feb. 3  Anoushka Concepcion, Assistant Extension Educator for Marine Aquaculture
Connecticut Sea Grant & UConn Extension

A Sea Vegetable Saga

This presentation will focus on an overview of Connecticut Sea Grant’s involvement in seaweed cultivation.

April 20 German Cutz, Ed.D., Sustainable Families & Communities Educator
UConn Extension

Urban Agriculture: A way to reduce food desert communities in Connecticut

Urban agriculture may be an alternative for Connecticut and similar states to increase farmland acreage, increase the number of farmers, reduce food desert areas, and engage urban residents, like Hispanics, in food production.

Both seminars will be held from 11 AM - 12 PM in ATL 109.
Informal Discussion and refreshments follow presentation.